

YOUR WINTER WANTS

Demand early attention. This is an unusual season, with unusual requirements. To supply the universal wants of the country, doubly increased by the wave of prosperity now spreading itself over the land from ocean to ocean, is taxing the capacity of every manufacturing plant. Later you will be forced to face the results—broken assortments and price advancement. Immediate purchasers avoid the danger of both. You now have variety from which to choose and satisfy the fancy, and the lowest notch in price to satisfy your economical inclinations.

This Week In the Cloak Department.

We opened the season with some of the most remarkable self-evident values in Plush Capes that manufacturing skill has ever produced. In fact the offering of Jackets and Capes is of equal importance.

One of the lot is an All-Silk Plush Cape, 27 inches long, handsomely trimmed with jet and braid, edged with Thibet fur, silk lined. Ordinary buying would force a merchant to get $15.

WE
$10.

Another lot is a Silk Plush Cape, 27 inches long, edged with Thibet fur, changeable silk lining. If asked to pay $10 you would not think it a penny too high.

$7.

Three other Capes we shall briefly mention—a lot more to show you. A 27-inch Kersey Cape, handsomely trimmed, edged with fur, double plaited back, storm collar, lined with silk, at $8. A 22-inch Plush Cape, braided all over and lined with silk, at $6. A 27-inch Boucle Cape, trimmed with fur, at $4. Hundreds of other Capes and Jackets in the collection quite as remarkable, all of which command your personal inspection.

More News of Weighty Winter Fabrics For Women's Wear.

We exhibited last week the finest showing of a variety of exclusive Dress Fabrics, Woven Tuck Effects, black and colored grounds. The clever weaving proved a success. Crowds of admirers visited the department especially to see them. The price, 50c, 60c, 75c and $1. Another remarkable offering of Staple Fabrics—ALL-WOOL Fancy Mixtures, all the new shades, at 25c and 35c. ALL-WOOL Broadened Effects in blue, green, brown and purple, at 35c.

Our Millinery Department.

One of the greatest events of the season was our Millinery Opening. The style, workmanship, artistic beauty—in fact everything connected with the art of fine headgear—cannot be surpassed. We invite a personal inspection.

THE MACLANE MEETING.
In spite of the rain a good sized audience greeted Evangelist MacLane at the Christian Church last night. He gave a very comprehensive talk on "Assurance." When the invitation was given one young man renewed his covenant with God. Meeting this morning at 10 o'clock, and at night 7:45. The subject at night will be "Prophecy and Fulfillment." All are urged to come. These meetings are for the unconverted and will go on indefinitely.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.
The average attendance at the first six Sunday afternoon meetings for men has been 153.

The association Bible, gymnasium and educational classes will all begin in November. The first of the several series of practical talks on every day subjects will be given by Rev. S. L. Rice commencing to-morrow night at 8 o'clock in Y. M. C. A. lecture room. Admission will be ticket only. Tickets can be secured from the association office. Subject, "Rocks in Finances." Every young man is especially invited to attend this series.

The registrar for the Third ward can be found at Martin's store on Commonwealth avenue n. e., between Sixth and Seventh avenues, and will register all persons duly qualified.

ENERGETIC AND ENTERPRISING MEN can find profitable and pleasant employment with large pay by applying at room 306 Terry building, Roanoke.

AFRAID OF UPSETTING.
Monday night when the local freight which runs between Winston and this city was approaching the trestle over the Roanoke river, where the road bed slants a little, an old colored woman from Franklin county became very nervous about the train upsetting and finally jumped off and rolled down the bank, receiving only a few scratches and bruises. After gathering herself together she boarded a Jefferson street car just beyond the river bridge and when that went around a curve she thought that she would be safe on terra firma so she jumped off and walked to town. She was evidently from the back woods and had never ridden on either a street car or train before. She was considerably shaken up and bruised from her two leaps for life, but escaped without any serious injury.

OFF TO THE CONVOCATION.
Rev. R. W. Patton and Rev. W. H. Meade left yesterday afternoon for Lexington, where they go to attend the Southwestern convocation, which convened in that city yesterday. Among other ministers that were noted going to attend the convocation were Rev. E. B. Hubbard, of Salem; Rev. Frank Riddle, of Radford, and Rev. J. W. Towson, of Bristol, Va.

FAD PEPSIN GUM. Two large packs for 5 cents at Massie's Pharmacy.

POLICE COURT.
There were no fines imposed in the police court yesterday and court was in session only a few moments. There was only one arrest made on Monday, which speaks well for the law and order of our city.

OUT OF DANGER.

Unless unforeseen complications arise, little Cleland Kent Schwarz, who sustained such a frightful fall Sunday morning, is considered by the attending physician, Dr. G. S. Luck, to be out of danger, though the patient will require careful nursing for ten days. It is not thought that the boy will be at all disfigured. The "Providence" which holds a protecting hand over children had never a clearer exemplification than in this miraculous escape from instant death.

The most popular 5c Cigar is Frank Teller's "Chicos," 6 for 25c. Van Lear Bros., Druggists.

TO THE REUNION.

Several members of the Flora Stuart Chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy passed through the city yesterday on their way to the Confederate reunion in Richmond to represent their chapter.

TIED OF HIS HOME.

Monday night a small white boy named Arthur Conrad, looking to be about 10 or 12 years old, applied to Officer Eanes for a bed and shelter. The officer showed him to the jail, where he spent the night and part of yesterday. It was learned by a Times reporter that the boy had run away from his home in Radford.

CAPTURED AT LAST.

Jack Donaldson was arrested yesterday morning at the market by Officer Merriman for being drunk and down. Jack is wanted on the charge of jail breaking, as the readers of The Times will remember that he escaped from jail on the 13th of last August and has been at liberty ever since.

TWO SMALL WRECKS.

There was a freight wreck on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad near Harper's Ferry Monday night which delayed traffic a few hours. No. 5 from the north being two hours late yesterday. The details of the wreck could not be obtained, though it was ascertained that no one was killed.

There was another small wreck on the Norfolk and Western main line at Ford's caused by a freight train breaking loose and the two sections running together. After several hours the track was cleared up and traffic resumed. No one was injured or killed so far as could be learned, but facts were unobtainable.

SENATOR DANIEL MAY SPEAK.

It is likely that Senator Daniel will address the voters of Roanoke on the political issues involved in the present campaign in the Academy of Music on next Saturday night. Senator Daniel will pick the place should he come here to make a speech.

THE GENTRY SHOWS.

The Gentry dog and pony show was very largely attended yesterday afternoon, notwithstanding the steady down-pour of rain. The show measured up to its high standard in every particular and the large and appreciative audience went away thoroughly satisfied with the performance. The steady rain of last night prevented the people attending the night performance.

REGISTRATION NOTICE.

On Saturday, October 23, the registration books will close and all voters who are not on the books at that time will not be allowed to exercise the right of suffrage at the approaching November election. The young men who have never cast a vote, but have now passed the twenty-first mile post, should see that their names are registered at once.

BONDURANT IN LIMBO.

Will Bondurant, the professional jail breaker, who was confined here for safe keeping and who made his escape a few weeks ago, has been taken back to Bristol from West Virginia, where he was captured a few days ago. He will be locked up and every precaution taken to prevent his escape before the next term of the Bristol court convenes, when he will be tried on the charge of highway robbery.

A NEW EDITOR.

Geo. P. Button, of Lynchburg, who edited the Evening World in his infancy, has returned to his old love and again assumed editorial charge of the paper. He is a writer of ability and The Times extends to him the hand of welcome and hopes that he may find his new field of labor both pleasant and profitable.

HAD HEART FAILURE.

H. L. Francis, an attaché of The Times, is confined to his home on Third avenue n. e. by illness. On Monday night he was so seriously ill that a physician was called and he pronounced it a case of heart trouble. Mr. Francis was able to be up yesterday, but is still too ill to resume his duties as assistant pressman.

IN LYNCHBURG.

J. W. Camper, S. Huff, E. J. Reed, W. H. Powell and H. M. Whittington, representatives of the J. O. U. A. M., are in Lynchburg in attendance at the meeting of the State council of the organization.

AT THE ACADEMY.

A Glorious Season of Song for the Roanoke Public To-night.

Manager Beckner will have the pleasure to-night of presenting to the public of Roanoke an aggregation of musical artists the like of which has never before appeared in this city. This company of artists appeared in Norfolk Monday night and the Virginian the next morning printed the following in regard to the performance:

"When the curtain went up at the Academy last evening the magnificent auditorium of the house as well as the balcony was filled with one of the most brilliant and most highly cultivated audiences that has ever assembled in this building. Indeed, such an audience in such a setting as the Academy of Music affords, might be likened unto a painting of Messiaen in a frame of velvet glittering in gold. It was highly cultured, and with critical, and no gathering in any playhouse was ever better pleased."

"Miss Scalchi, seemingly inspired by the occasion, sang with remarkable power and effect. Her auditors were wild with delight when in answer to a double encore she sang 'Annie Laurie.' Her voice had remarkable range and quality, and it gave expression to the delicate music in a manner which lingered long after the last notes had died away. But then, it was not alone Scalchi who pleased the audience. There was Mr. McQueen, who has the best baritone heard in Norfolk for years; and Mlle. Du Belot, Signor Alberti, and Mlle. Toulignuet, all of whom sang magnificently. Encores were asked and freely given, that of the 'Last Rose of Summer' by Mlle. Toulignuet being especially sweet and effective."

"At the end of the concert one act of 'Il Trovatore' was put on with Mlle. Toulignuet as Leonora; Mr. McQueen as Manrico; Signor Alberti as Count di Luna; and Scalchi as Azucena. With such a cast the readers of the Virginian can imagine the grandeur of the presentation."

CALLED TO TENNESSEE.

Rev. R. C. Anderson, of this city, has received a telegram from the Presbyterians of Shelbyville, Tenn., extending to him a unanimous call to become their pastor. The synod of Nashville will convene in this church on October 26. It is one of the strongest churches in middle Tennessee. Mr. Anderson has not yet decided as to what course he will pursue.

EVERY NUMBER ENCORED.

Manager Beckner received the following telegram last night: "Richmond, Va., Oct. 19. A swell audience greeted Mlle. Scalchi and her grand company of artists at the Academy of Music here to-night. The building was crowded almost to suffocation. Every number on the programme was encored."

NOT ON THE BALLOT.

Rev. D. C. Moomaw, Populist independent candidate to be voted for at the approaching November election, was seen yesterday by a Times reporter and he seems very sanguine over the result of the battle royal which takes place two weeks hence. Mr. Moomaw is at a loss to calculate the vote of Roanoke city, but he says from the assurances received from voters in the county that he will not appear on the official ballot in Craig county owing to the fact that his certificate did not reach the clerk of the Craig county court until the 14th instant when it should have been in his hands on the thirteenth to come within the provisions of the law. Mr. Moomaw alleges that this condition of affairs is due to the negligence of the postmaster at New Castle, who is said to have misplaced the registered letter containing the certificate until it was too late to have it certified and placed on the ballot. He now hopes to overcome this misfortune by the provision in the law which allows the issuance of a lame already on the ballot and the substitution of another in its stead. Mr. Moomaw is sending circulars broadcast over Craig county instructing his friends who desire to vote for him what to do on the day of election in order to have their ballots counted.
